Situation

4. The Pre-Submission Local Plan sets out the Council's planning policies and site allocations that it intends to submit for independent examination later in the year. It has been prepared with reference to the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), the Uttlesford Community Strategy, a wide range of evidence which is available on the Council's website, and extensive public consultation.
5. This Plan contains the following:
 - The profile of the district provides the context for the vision and objectives which follow
 - The spatial strategy sets out what the policies in the document will mean for the various areas in the district.
 - The strategic policies are the key policies needed to deliver the strategy. Once the plan is adopted planning applications will be expected to conform with these policies, and the development management policies.
 - The development management policies set out the more detailed criteria that the council will use to determine planning applications.
 - The site allocations identify areas for development and include the policies which will determine how these areas should be developed.
6. The purpose of the consultation is so that representations can be made before it is submitted to the Secretary of State for examination by an Inspector. Comments on this stage in the plan preparation process therefore have to be made in a more structured way than in previous consultations. Representations will need to relate to whether the legal requirements for producing the local plan have been met, whether the requirements of the Duty to co-operate have been met and whether it is 'sound'. The tests of soundness are whether the plan has been positively prepared, is justified, effective and consistent with the NPPF.

Risk Analysis

Risk	Likelihood	Impact	Mitigating actions
That the Council submits proposals for its Local Plan that are unsound	1. Members have been involved in the development of the policies through previous consultations and report of representations. Furthermore they have been kept informed of the evidence base.	4. If the Plan were unsound, this would require potentially additional evidence to be collected, a new draft plan to be prepared and further consultation before the Council would be in a position to submit a sound plan. In the interim it would not have an up to date local plan and applications would need to be determined on the basis of the NPPF. The council's ability to achieve development in accordance with a strategy that reflected local priorities would be compromised.	The Cabinet is satisfied that a rigorous appraisal of the Plan has been carried out. The Regulation 19 consultation enables the council to consider making further changes to the Plan before submission if new issues arise that it has not previously taken into account.
